

JEFFREY CARR

JEFFREY W. CARR is FMC Technologies, Inc.'s Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary. Mr. Carr has extensive experience in commercial and corporate counseling, corporate governance and compliance, dispute resolution including mediation, arbitration and litigation, negotiations involving international joint ventures, acquisitions, divestitures, privatizations, international trade law, customs, export control. In addition, he designed and implemented the ACES™ risk/reward law firm engagement model (patent pending), the FMC Technologies Corporate Compliance Program, and 1° Law™ an integrated internet/intranet/extranet enabled financial, administrative, internal/external counsel collaboration, matter management, and knowledge management model. Mr. Carr received a Lexis-Nexis Distinguished Legal Services Award in 2002, and the FMC Technologies Legal Team was featured in the Corporate Legal Times Ten in 2004, for innovative legal delivery services ideas.

Prior to his current position, Mr. Carr was the Associate General Counsel for FMC Corporation and was responsible for the legal affairs of the company's Energy and Airport Systems business groups. He joined FMC Corporation in November 1993 as International Counsel, moved to Houston in 1997 as Associate General Counsel for the Energy Systems Group, and assumed his current position with FMC Technologies when that firm was created by and spun off from FMC Corporation in 2001. Prior to joining FMC, Mr. Carr practiced international trade law in Washington, DC with Willkie Farr & Gallagher and Wald Harkrader & Ross and was a judicial law clerk to the Hon. Murray M. Schwartz (USDC-Del). He also founded and managed International Advisory Services Group, Ltd., an international trade policy, investment banking, and commercial consulting firm with offices in Washington, Prague and Manila. Mr. Carr is a 1978 graduate of the University of Virginia, with a BA with honors in Government and Foreign Affairs. He received a law degree with honors from the Georgetown University Law Center where he was an Articles Editor for Georgetown Law Journal. In addition, while at Georgetown, he completed over 30 hours of post-graduate study in the areas of international economics and foreign policy.

Mr. Carr is a frequent contributor to legal publications and speaker at continuing education programs on issues including international joint ventures, corporate compliance and creating new delivery systems for the delivery of in-house legal services and is an active participant in ACCA, CLO21, GCRT, the LawPartnering Council, MAPI and the TGCF. He is admitted to practice in Texas, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia and may be reached at jeffrey.carr@fmcti.com.